

Cathleen A. Wakeland, Ph.D.

Faculty, Interior Design, Consumer and Design Sciences

173B Spidle Hall

Phone: (334) 844-3790; e-mail: caw0213@auburn.edu

Education

Ph.D., Regent University, Virginia Beach, VA, USA

Historic Building Conservation Certificate, Cambridge University, Cambridge, UK

MFA, Interior Design, University of North Texas, Denton, TX, USA

BA, Interior Design, Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, TX, USA

Professional Interior Design Experience

Interior Designer, Baron Design Ltd, Cambridgeshire, England, UK

Corporate Interior Designer, Tandy Corporation, Fort Worth, TX, USA

Interior Designer, Geren Associates/CRS Sirrinc, Fort Worth, TX, USA

Interior Designer, Store Fixture Company, Fort Worth, TX, USA

Interior Design Intern, Minton-Corley Interior Design, Fort Worth, TX, USA

Teaching Experience

Interior Design Faculty: The Art Institute of San Antonio, San Antonio, TX

Interior Design and Design and Technical Graphics Program Coordinator. Responsibilities: Development of ID program, Resource Center development/organization, CIDA program preparation, advising students, registering students in CampusVue, Program Assessment Report preparation, transcript reviews, art foundations curriculum and adjunct coordination, and interviewing, hiring, and supervising adjunct faculty.

Assistant Professor: University of North Alabama, Florence, Alabama

Human Environmental Sciences: responsibilities included teaching ten different courses in the Interior Design program, maintaining computer lab, sponsoring student chapter of professional association, developing curriculum to meet accreditation standards.

Adjunct Professor (PT): University of Maryland University College, Europe

Responsibilities Included: Teach Art and Computer Studies: creating and posting online course content, initiating and facilitating classroom discussions, incorporating internet websites and resources, grading submitted work. Nature of Students: Military personnel world-wide.

Computer Studies Teacher: Cambridge Centre for Sixth Form, Cambridge, UK

Responsibilities Included: teaching computer studies and prepping students for A-Level and GCSE qualifying exams, tutoring on a one-to-one basis. Nature of Students: ages 14-19, many ESL, some with learning disabilities.

Assistant Professor: James Madison University, Harrisonburg, Virginia

Art Department and Living Sciences Department: responsibilities included the development of curriculum to combine Living Sciences Design program with the Art Design program in to one program to meet accreditation standards, teaching Interior Design courses, faculty senate representative, student chapter professional organization sponsor.

Interior Design Graduate Teaching Fellow, University of North Texas, Denton, Texas

School of the Visual Arts: Responsibilities included teaching undergraduate students.

Professional Memberships

NCIDQ Certificate #2107

IDEC, ASID